Intellectual Property

In today's competitive environment, protection of Intellectual Property ("IP") is critical to a business's survival. Little is more frustrating than discovering that you have unwittingly failed to adequately protect your IP and someone is trying to use it or take it without just compensation. Perhaps you face a claim that you have improperly used someone else's IP. Chamberlain Hrdlicka can protect your IP interests and, if necessary, pursue or defend claims concerning its taking or misuse.

From IP applications and agreements to litigation of patents, trademarks, trade secrets, copyrights and restrictive covenants, we have experienced lawyers to help you at reasonable rates.
