

My Speaking Invitation for You

11-07-13 by James M. Kane, Attorney

NOTE: This email alert is a promotional communication dealing with general legal and tax topics of interest for a broad range of readers. It is not legal or tax advice that readers may rely on as a recommendation for their particular situation nor is it a promise or guarantee of any particular outcome or result. You are welcome to print or e-mail this alert for other readers.

My impression over my 20+ years of lawyering is that most people do not have the opportunity to read or hear a good, common-sense discussion of what is a trust, why use a trust, and what factors distinguish an excellent trust from an average trust.

The purpose of this alert is to offer my availability as a speaker on the following subject. This presentation is essentially a Cliffs Notes® guide for trusts that covers both tax and non-tax considerations:

Cocktail Party Chit-Chat:
“What is a Trust and What Makes a Good Trust?”

By James M. Kane, attorney
Chamberlain, Hrdlicka, White, Williams & Aughtry

I am available to speak for continuing education purposes, financial planners, civic, church and neighborhood groups, schools, etc., for audiences of 20 or more individuals. This presentation is typically 90 minutes long, but can be adjusted as necessary.

Please contact me if you have an interest in having me speak about this important topic. You can also find other possible speaking topics at my law firm bio and legal blog (both referenced below).
