“TAX AND IMMIGRATION CONSEQUENCES FOR FOREIGN NATIONALS”

In today's marketplace, it is essential for companies to maintain a global environment in order to remain competitive and current. More and more companies are seeking talented individuals from other nations in satisfying the demand of high skilled specialty workers here in the United States. However, there are legitimate tax and immigration concerns which must be addressed by these businesses. This seminar will cover compliance and enforcement matters while addressing the tax consequences for foreign nationals. Various visa options and possible expatriation of U.S. citizens will also be discussed.
