“WOODEN YOU KNOW: IMPORTANT TAX TOPICS FOR TIMBER AND OTHER LAND OWNERS”

Owners of timberland can face a number of tax issues and opportunities, some of which are unique to owning this type of property, and others of which have broad application to many property and business owners. The speakers will provide a general overview of the potential tax consequences of owning interests in timber property, including pitfalls to avoid. The speakers will also discuss attractive tax planning incentives and opportunities for property owners to consider, including state tax credits, estate planning opportunities, and federal income tax deductions for contributions of conservation easements.
