Chamberlain Hrdlicka Announces Formation of New Business Litigation Team in San Antonio Office

(Shareholder-in-charge of San Antonio office), and Justice David Medina.

San Antonio, Texas - (May 10, 2017) – National law firm Chamberlain Hrdlicka today announced the formation of a new litigation team in the firm’s San Antonio office. The new team brings together the legal expertise of former Texas Supreme Court Justice David Medina, David Calvillo, and John Muller.

Wayne Risoli, managing shareholder of Chamberlain Hrdlicka said, “The formation of our new litigation team in San Antonio allows us to provide our clients legal counsel from three highly experienced litigators.”

Justice David Medina has served as a District Court Judge and as associate general counsel for Cooper Industries where he managed Cooper's litigation and product safety matters throughout the world. He subsequently served on the Texas Supreme Court for eight years and authored numerous opinions which have helped to shape the landscape of business in Texas. Justice Medina’s broad experience as a litigator, litigation manager, and jurist make him uniquely qualified to represent Chamberlain Hrdlicka’s clients.

David Calvillo is a board certified trial lawyer, professional neutral, and certified public accountant. David is a member of the American Law Institute and the Roster of Neutrals for the American Arbitration Association. He has successfully tried and litigated matters involving contracts, ownership disputes, business torts, professional malpractice, personal injury, and intellectual property. He has been included in the listing of “Texas Super Lawyers” for the past ten consecutive years.

John Muller has represented businesses in a wide range of commercial and fiduciary litigation matters. John provides “outside general counsel” services to his clients with an emphasis on managing issues relating to vendor contracts, credit applications, fiduciary obligations, human resources, theft losses, aged accounts, and other legal issues that habitually erode business profits. He has extensive trial experience and has successfully tried cases involving contracts, commercial leases, business torts, and fraudulent transfers.
